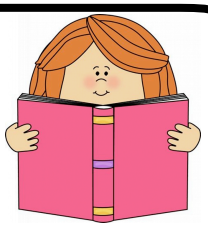
I am learning to reread if I get mixed up.

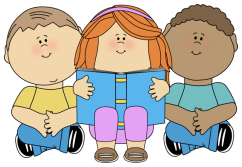
I am learning to look at the pictures to get clues.

I am learning to point to the words as I read.



I am learning to make the first sound of a tricky word and then think what would make sense.

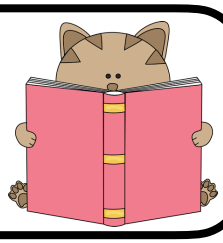
I am learning to make my reading make sense.



I am learning to make my reading sounds like talking.

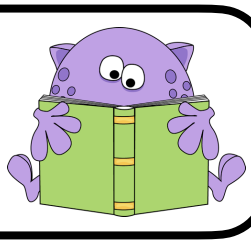
I am learning to make my reading sounds like talking.

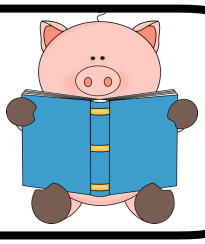
I am learning to read to the end of the word.



I am learning to predict what might happen next.

I am learning to make connections to what I already know.



I am learning to make a picture in my mind as I read.


I am learning
